

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CHAIRMAN ASKS REPUBLICAN VOTERS TO HELP HIM "CUT" HIS RUNNING MATE FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER -- JOHN T. WELSH SUGGESTS THAT REPUBLICAN VOTERS CAST "STRAIGHT" TICKET EXCEPT FOR OFFICE HE IS TRYING TO GRAB FROM FELLOW DEMOCRAT

In one of the most amazing political letters ever written, Bucks County Democratic Chairman John T. Welsh has asked Republican voters to help him "cut" his running mate for County Commissioner — Edward C. Hancock, the present minority Commissioner, who was nominated by the Democratic party for re-election to the job.

For perhaps the first time in history, a Democratic County chairman has written to Republican voters showing them how to vote a straight Republican ticket, except for the position which he is trying to grab away from a fellow-Democrat.

The Welsh letter is reproduced elsewhere in this newspaper, for the obvious reason that anyone who hadn't read it for himself would find it hard to believe a Democratic chairman would thus seek to "knife" the Democratic incumbent of a high county position, simply to get the job himself.

Under the law, the Board of County Commissioners consists of three persons, two from the majority political party, and one from the minority. Each party selects two nominees, each voter votes for two, and the three highest are elected. The majority commissioners in Bucks County have been Republicans for years, and the minority seat has been the highest position in the county occupied by a Democrat.

In a hotly contested primary election last September 9, Welsh, aided by the prestige of his position as Democratic County Chairman, edged out his rival for the second position on the Commission ticket, John F. Smoyer, of Bristol. Hancock won easily for re-nomination.

Among the many tricky features of the Welsh letter is that if any Republican voters were gullible enough to mark their ballots the way the Democratic chairman has diagrammed, they would cut BOTH the Republican nominees for county commission, and wind up casting their vote only for one of the Democratic nominees — for Chairman Welsh!

The obligation of a County Chairman to work vigorously for the re-election of a member of his party who has served with a good record, and who has been re-nominated by the party, is perfectly obvious. For a County Chairman to attempt to "knife" his running-mate under such circumstances is almost unheard of.

This is especially true in the case of the Board of County Commissioners, where, because the duties cover a variety of business affairs and therefore require the presence of experienced persons, it has been the custom of both parties in Bucks County to re-elect for a second term those Commissioners who have a good record for their first term.

County Chairman Welsh nowhere in his letter, nor in any other of his official campaign material, has had any fault to find with the service of Commissioner Hancock during the four years he has held the minority post.

The implication is, of course, that Welsh simply wants the job himself. As county chairman leading his party's ticket, party loyalty, a satisfactory record in office, and the principle of supporting faithful party members who run for re-election — these considerations are not in the picture. The commission job is, from the apparent point of view of

DEAR VOTER:

You are reminded of the very important MUNICIPAL ELECTION to be held on Tuesday, November 4th, here in Bucks County; at which time many major County and Local offices will be voted upon. Among the County Officers to be elected are three (3) County Commissioners out of four candidates. The Republican Party has placed two candidates on the ballot for this office and the Democratic Party has done likewise. These four candidates were nominated in the Primary Election last September. According to Pennsylvania Laws the two candidates receiving the highest number of votes are the majority party Commissioners and the candidate receiving the third highest number of votes is in the minority party Commissioner. For the past forty odd years the Republican Party has been able to elect the two majority Commissioners by a good size margin and the Democratic Party has been represented by the one minority Commissioner, which they are entitled to by law.

Your attention is called to the fact that I am one of the four candidates for the office of County Commissioner and your whole hearted support and the assistance of your family and friends is cordially solicited in behalf of my candidacy. I have always believed that the average Republican and No-Party voter would split his or her ticket in a County and Local Election where they know the individual candidates; and with this thought in mind I am asking for one of the most precious privileges that you have — YOUR VOTE.

If you don't mind a suggestion and to make sure that your ballot will be marked correctly the following diagram is set down for your study and reference:

PARTY COLUMN

To Vote a Straight Party Ticket,
Mark a Cross (X) in this Column

REPUBLICAN

County Commissioner (Vote for Two)

Simon K. Moyer, Republican	<input type="checkbox"/>
Joseph W. Hollowell, Republican	<input type="checkbox"/>
John T. Welsh, Democratic	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
Edward C. Hancock, Democratic	<input type="checkbox"/>

The law states: For an office where more than one candidate is to be elected, the voter, after marking in the Party square, may divide his or her vote by marking a cross (X) to the right of each candidate for whom he or she desires to vote.

You can vote a straight Republican ticket in the Party column and then move over to the individual candidate column for County Commissioner where you have the right to vote for two. If you want to vote for me an (X) is required after my name and then you have the privilege to mark another (X) after one of the two Republican candidates. Splitting your ballot in this manner will be helping me considerably.

Thanking you in advance for your support and cooperation in behalf of my campaign and with every best wish, I remain

Sincerely yours,

John T. Welsh

SPLIT YOUR TICKET FOR JOHN T. WELSH FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

Take a good look at the above letter. It is probably the strangest political document you will ever see. Although the letter doesn't say so, the signer is the Bucks County Democratic Chairman. As you will note, he is writing to Republicans and telling them how to vote straight Republican for all jobs except the one he wants. And note also that he has carefully "cut" his running-mate, who is the present Democratic member of the Board of County Commissioners, nominated by his party (of which Mr. Welsh is county chairman) for re-election after four years successful service.

A discussion of recent changes in the Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation Law was given by "Ben" Tuft, field director, Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, when he spoke to Bristol Rotarians at the Elks' Home yesterday afternoon.

"Unemployment compensation is not a substitute for a job, but a tideover until work is secured," Tuft pointed out.

Francis L. Mathews, director of the Bristol office of the Pennsylvania State Employment Service, also spoke briefly on the condition of the labor market in this area. He pointed out that the number of job applicants clearing through his office for the current month is less than half of what it was in August, with a total of 699 applicants for October. "The last two months have shown a steady trend upwards in employment in this area," he declared.

Police Recover Equipment Allegedly Stolen in Trenton

Some $1500 worth of lumbering equipment allegedly taken in a burglary from Warren Welsh, Meyers Alley near Old Rose st., in Trenton, was recovered yesterday by police near Croydon in a chicken coop on the farm of John Costello RD 1.

According to Chief Bucks County Detective Anthony Russo, Costello told police that a man came to his farm and offered to trim some trees for him. He left the machinery there. Costello became suspicious and informed detective Russo. Trenton detectives were informed and from information gathered by them and descriptions given by Costello a warrant was issued for the arrest of David Bowker, 24, an employee of the man from whom the equipment was stolen.

State troopers Kutney and Dane aided in the investigation.

WINDOW DECORATING PRIZES ANNOUNCED

Range from $12 Down in Junior and Senior Groups
For School Pupils

PUBLIC IS ENTHUSED

Prizes, ranging from first to fifth in the junior division, and from first to third in the senior division, have been announced by Chester W. Terchon Post, 5542, Veterans of Foreign Wars, which organization conducted the window decorating contest in Bristol.

Throughout this Halloween period old and young have been and are enjoying the scenes suggestive of the season which pupils of Bristol's public and parochial schools have painted on display windows of Bristol's business places. In spite of the fact this is the first opportunity the local girls and boys have had to try their talent along this line, the work in many instances is outstanding. Throughout yesterday and today, and particularly during the parade hours last evening, "window-shoppers" had more than their money's worth, for they thoroughly enjoyed the display of "spooky" art.

The division between junior and senior pupils was the 15th birthday. The contest rules called for completion of scenes by six o'clock last evening, and it was just in time for those who started gathering for the local Halloween parade.

Prize winners are announced by the Terchon Post as follows:

JUNIOR GROUP

First prize, $12, Richman's store window, Mill street; Helen Simpson, 319 Dorrance street, and Barbara Rice, 319 Wood street.

Second prize, $8, Jobson's window, Farragut avenue; Andrew Accardi, 497 Lafayette street; Frank Kelso, 331 Monroe street; Richard Tosti, 342 Monroe street.

Third prize, $5, Percy G. Ford's window, Farragut avenue; Katherine Fisher, 727 Wood street; Ann Ray Gelman, 310 Mill street; and Anne Ardrey, 705 Radcliffe street.

LUDASCHER-WEISS

Ludascher, Eddington, took place on Saturday in the rectory of All Saints R. C. Church, Philadelphia. The newlyweds will reside in an apartment on Rockland street, Philadelphia, upon their return home from a motor trip to parts of Canada.

Weather Conditions Appeared To Have Deterred Paraders

Bristol loves a parade! Despite the threatening aspect of the weather, and the chill of the evening, a crowd, several rows deep, lined the route of the Halloween parade staged last evening under sponsorship of Robert W. Bracken Post, No. 352, American Legion.

The paraders were a jolly and carefree lot, and their enthusiasm readily spread throughout the thousands of spectators.

The weather conditions—a fine drizzle at times and a raw wind out of the northeast, undoubtedly kept many out of the demonstration.

There were sedate marchers, youth bands, Legion drum corps, an accordion band of 14 pieces, Indians beating their tom-toms; an automobile show "on wheels," kiddie organizations, adult groups including parents and grandparents, business displays, and countless others. A division of mixed character impersonations, comics and "free-for-alls" was listed in the hundreds.

The Bensalem high school band led the line and was followed by a group of women, representing the Degree of Pocahontas, Croydon, dressed in Indian costumes, who staged a "war dance" in front of the reviewing stand, in this instance the 40' n' s locomotive at Mill and Wood streets. Then came a "Courier Cut-Out" girl, Joyce Hardy, of McKinley street, who wore a costume fashioned entirely of advertisements from The Bristol Courier.

"The Sugar-Cane Girls," made up of members of the Bristol Girls' Club, wore oil-cloth costumes with red jackets, white skirts, white hats, and large bow ties. They, too, went into their dance at the reviewing stand to the accompaniment of an accordion and a saxophone.

Packenah Tribe, No. 342, I. O. Red Men, South Langhorne, wearing their Indian regalia, was followed by Clott's accordion band of 14 pieces. The mixed group, included three goats, a sailor working his yo-yo, and countless others of a comic nature. "Junior Smoketown" operated much in the same manner as the senior group of that name, even to the stream of water.

WHEAT FOR EUROPE

Argentina is ready to help feed a hungry world which gives little indication that it intends to help itself if that involves returning to work—at a price. With wheat $3
a bushel on American markets,
she will sell her wheat for $5 a bushel—spot cash—the cash, presumably to the supplied by the United States.

Thus Argentina proposes to make good on President Peron's speech of last July. At that time, with one of those perennial Pan-American conferences coming up and Argentina in bad repute because that nation retained its neutrality during the war, the head of the South American country's government emitted the sort of words the conference leaders wanted to hear. He said his country would give all the economic aid it could to war ravaged countries.

Now Argentina has wheat to export to those war-ravaged countries. At $5 a bushel.

Times have certainly changed since 1932, when wheat went as low as 44½ cents on the Chicago market. With near-starvation conditions in Europe, wheat is in great demand because grains require far less shipping space for a given number of calories than most other foods, contain a high proportion of essential nutrients for subsistence feeding, and therefore meet the need at relatively low cost.

Europe, the Department of Agriculture has estimated, will need to import 570,000,000 bushels of grain this year, most of it wheat. The boys in Washington have estimated that the United States—if Congress appropriates
the money—can supply 400,000, 000 bushels of wheat and 70,000, 000 bushels of other grains toward this total.

Unless Washington, in its enthusiasm, provides still more, 100,000,000 bushels—if Europe
actually needs 570,000,000 bushels—must come from Argentina.
And Argentina has no desire to play Santa Claus.

Japanese Christmas toys will be on the market again this year.
To many Americans this will seem like the point where they came in.

Senator Capper says the government at Washington costs the people more than they pay for food, but most persons would rather eat than look at Truman's picture.

Asks Republican Voters To Help Him "Cut" His Running

the Democratic Chairman, the choicest plum within reach — and he proposes to grab it for himself.

As will be noted from inspection of the letter, the signer nowhere identified himself as Democratic County Chairman. Instead he adopts a "hi-yo, buddy" approach to the Republican voters, and makes himself out to be "experienced," "dependable," etc., and asks Republican votes as a sort of personal favor.

The "experience" end of his plea of course ignores the fact that he himself has had no experience whatsoever with the duties of commissioner, whereas his running mate, whom he is trying to have "cut" in the balloting, has had four years successful experience in the job.

The sensational news that the Democratic County Chairman is using his powers, not for the advancement of his party's ticket and not to further the objectives of the Democratic party, but to try to take a job away from a fellow-Democrat, comes after Democratic affairs in this County reached a new low during the recent Congressional campaign.

During the campaign which led up to the Special Election on September 9 (Primary Day) it was repeatedly asserted that the "Democratic" nominee of Bucks and Lehigh Counties had not been selected through regular Democratic channels at all, but had been hand-picked by outside CIO politicians.

Moreover, it was conspicuous throughout July and August that regular Democratic leaders in the two counties had permitted themselves to be elbowed into the background, and the Democratic campaign turned over to interlopers
from outside the District.

A special labor-union committee was set up to spearhead the "Democratic" campaign, and much of the publicity failed to identify the candidate as "democratic," or even to mention the Democratic party at all.
Outsiders managed the campaign.
Large rallies had no local Democratic speakers.

Bitter resentment of loyal Democrats to this strategy was reflected on Election Day, when the returns showed that great numbers of Bucks County Democrats either voted for the Republican nominee for Congress, or stayed home in protest.

Thousands Watch Hallowe'eners Parade

The Mothers' Association accompanied the Bristol high school band, the mothers carrying red flares. The band members were garbed as "Hill-Billies." A trio of girls affiliated with the band gave a fine demonstration of baton twirling. Morrisville American Legion senior corps was the next musical unit, they wearing comic costumes. The Morrisville high school band was closely followed by a group of girls from that high school wearing white sweaters on which appeared gold "M's" and blue skirts. An equestrienne group was next in line; then came James Sutton, Bridgewater, with an antiquated Franklin car.

Terehon Post, V. F. W., Cadets color guard wore red and white uniforms, with the musical unit members having uniforms of red, white and blue. They led a number of Studebaker cars and trucks entered by Torano's Garage. Bracken Post Cadets led the Senior Girl Scouts who entered a float showing an Autumn scene including corn stalks. One group of children on a float brought to mind the United Nations, each child representing a different country, with the insignia "World Friendship" displayed. The Cub Scouts were also in the line-up.

The commercial division included a float from Brushy Park Farms, featuring a large cornucopia spilling forth a variety of vegetables. The sign displayed read "Conserve meat; eat more vegetables." O'Boyle's entered two trucks, from the one there being tossed to the crowd small containers of ice cream.

A burlesque on Bristol Volunteer Fire Co., No. 1, preceded the apparatus of that company. On the antiquated car which was first was a sign, "If you have a fire, put water on it; that's what we do." Santa's Toyland was represented with Santa emerging from a chimney tossing lolly-pops to the watchers. A display by William Hayes included floats, one showing a barber shop scene, and another painters at work. William J. Mack served as chairman of the group of judges named by Bracken Post. Aiding him were: H. Wesley Spencer, William Griffiths, Howard Boyd, William DeVoe, Edgar Spencer, Jacob C. Schmidt, Jr., Marvel Durham, Cornelius Traas, William Alderdice and Percy G. Ford.

Discussion on Christian Citizenship Conducted

Members of Bristol Women's Christian Temperance Union met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. George W. Bruden, Cedar street, with Miss Caroline Black assisting as hostess.

Mrs. Elizabeth West led the devotional period, and Mrs. Bruden, first vice president, presided over the business session.

Miss Black led the discussion on "Christian Citizenship," emphasizing the necessity for cooperation of parents and teachers, as well as church school teachers, in implanting principles of good citizenship in the youth.

tempt to force the adoption and use of text books in our schools which undermine the moral and legal principles essential to the continuance of our democratic form of government."

Supervising Principal Neldig, speaking on the importance of text books which are used in his schools, said: "We go over them pretty carefully before we recommend them to the school board and have never had any difficulty."

"We have men on our faculty—veterans of both World Wars—who would watch for things like that and they would soon detect it. If a book isn't okay, we have never been compelled to accept any text book or class-room material that we felt wasn't 100% American," Mr. Neldig said.

Dr. Halderman, Doylestown school head, who said he has never experienced any difficulty personally with text books which weren't all right, pointed out that four or five years ago there were certain types of books which stressed a "line of unified history and geography which was being sponsored by a large Eastern university."

"I understand those text books never got very far," said Dr. Halderman.

"My faculty and I check every textbook before it is bought and, as long as I can remember, we have never had any difficulty along that line," Dr. Halderman said. He also explained that interpretation can twist a point of view.

"The teachers, who are veterans of World War II, would be a great help in detecting anything un-American in a textbook."

Here and There in Bucks County Towns

When Mr. and Mrs. Harvey G. Swartz returned to their Doylestown home Sunday evening they found a lace on the floor of the living-room. Attempt had been made to use a screw driver or jimmy on the window. Nothing was found missing.

Mrs. John L. Fox, of near Warrington, a few days ago entertained 50 women at a breakfast at her home. This was one of a series of projects sponsored by the Warrington Women's Club, and for a number of women it came as a complete surprise.

A number of the women, taking their cars, called for others at their homes to take them to the breakfast. One of them, picking chickens, immediately gave up her work to accompany the callers, and others dropped their morning chores to attend.

Advance 50th Anniversary Plans for Perkasio Club

PERKASIE, Oct. 31—Progress is being made with plans for the celebration of the 50th anniversary of the Women's Club of Perkasio on Wednesday, November 19th. Among the features will be a luncheon and a pageant, "Today is Different From Yesterday," which will demonstrate activities of the various departments of the club. Greeting will be offered by Mrs. William Moyer, a member of the club, and president of the Bucks County Federation of Women's Clubs. With a membership of ten the club was organized in 1897, and at that time it was known as the Ladies' Literary League. Its objective was the promotion of social and literary activities in the community. The league in 1914 became affiliated with the county federation, and a few years later outside talent was used for the programs. It was in 1923 the name was changed to the Women's Club of Perkasio, and the following year it came affiliated with the State Federation of Women's Clubs.

BY JOE ELBERSON

Small game season . . . according to all latest reports the Pennsylvania small game season, originally scheduled to open tomorrow, will not open. Although sufficient rainfall has eliminated the danger of forest fires in some southeastern sections of the State most sections have still had very little rain. According to dispatches from the Governor's office at least three days of steady rainfall are needed.

Stocking . . . on Monday, October 27, Silver Lake received another load of fish from the Pennsylvania Fish Commission when 1000 broom were planted in its waters from the Torresdale hatchery. Although no advance notice of the stocking was received from hatchery superintendent, John J. Wopart, officials of the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association were advised that the fish were "in good shape." Usually the local club is informed in advance of all stockings so that members can be on hand to assist.

Retires . . . away back in 1892 a small, stocky young man of 23 years stepped to the shooting line to begin a career in trapshooting which continued for 55 years.

Just about three weeks ago, on October 12, this same man, now 78 years of age, stepped to the shooting line of the Newtown Rod & Gun trap. He was shooting under the colors of the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association. When the scores were tallied he had smashed 36 out of 50 targets.

"This is my last shoot," he said, "I'm going to retire from target shooting. My eyes are not as good as they used to be, and my legs are getting just a little wobbly."

Meet the dean of local trapshooters . . . he is Irvin Scheffey, 346 Lafayette street, the grand old man of trapshooting in this area.

During his career Scheffey has chalked up some remarkable feats. In 1938, at the age of 69, he won the Bucks County Championship, conducted by the Bucks County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs.

He estimates that he has shot at more than 100,000 targets during his lifetime.

Out of one gun, a Winchester pump, which he used for many years, he estimates he shot a total of 31 tons of lead.

Although he never broke 100 straight targets it was common to see a 98 on his score card.

And he won just a few over 100 trophies for his shooting ability. Many of these trophies he still has on display at his home.

He began his career in the Reading and Pottstown areas, but was equally well known at the shooting grounds of scores of clubs.

Asked what was important in becoming a consistently good marksman, Scheffey advised: "Get a good gun, one with balance, if you want to make good scores and get real enjoyment out of trapshooting."

Federation meets . . . next Monday, November 3, delegates from Bucks County's organized sportsmen's clubs will meet in the K. G. E. Hall, Doylestown, at eight p. m., for the November meeting of the Bucks County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs.

Local fishing . . . Maple Beach, which for the last several years has produced very mediocre fishing, has become one of the best spots locally for bass fishing, according to all reports. Numerous nice catches of bass have been reported there in the last three weeks. Reports indicate that the River fishing has picked up somewhat with catfish and white perch being taken in fair numbers. And better than average carp fishing is reported in most local waters.

BRISTOL HIGH TO MEET LANGHORNE AT LANGHORNE

Bristol High, still winless in six games, will play its first Lower Bucks County League game tomorrow afternoon, meeting the Langhorne Redskins on Playwick field, Langhorne. Opening kickoff will take place at 2:15 o'clock.

Langhorne has a better average than Bristol this season, winning three games, losing two, and tying another. It has scored ten touchdowns and has had 11 scored on it. Incidentally, the eleven touchdowns were made by two teams, Riverside and Fort Washington Academy.

Bristol has scored but two touchdowns for the season and has had 22 scored upon it. Bristol is weak in scoring and during the drill sessions this week Coach Harry McClister tried several new scoring plays.

Last Saturday, Coach DeRisi's

boys had their hands full in beating the Newtown team which threatened to score on several occasions but the Redskins put up a stone-wall defense at the crucial stages of the game and were victorious.

Coach DeRisi's team, defending champions of the Lower Bucks circuit, is out to retain its crown and intends to make the Bunnies its first victim before meeting Morrisville and Bensalem. In the only Lower Bucks League game played this season, Morrisville beat Bensalem, 19-6.

NEWTOWN HIGH SCORES EASY WIN OVER ST. FRANCIS

EDDINGTON, Oct. 31—Scoring in the second and final periods, the Council Rock (Newtown) High School eleven won over the St. Francis Vocational School, 13-0, here yesterday afternoon. The game was originally scheduled to be played this afternoon but was moved up by mutual consent of both schools.

"Jim" Hauler and Bob Norris scored the Newtown touchdowns. Hauler made his on a one-yard plunge after an intercepted pass had put the ball in scoring position. Titus converted the extra point on a plunge.

Norris registered his score on an end sweep of ten yards, climaxing a drive of 40 yards which started on a recovered fumble.

St. Francis made two threats to score but was stopped on both occasions.
